Market review

Global equity markets enjoyed a strong end to the year with the MSCI World Index gaining +2.7% in December, taking 2019 gains to +26%, the best year since 2013. The US S&P500 Index was one of the best performing indices, returning +3.0% with the market boosted by the US and China intention to sign a phase one trade deal. This led to optimism that additional increases in tariffs will be averted. We caution that, details are yet to be worked out, and a re-escalation is possible given the volatile feature of Trump's administration and their posturing for re-election in late 2020. Europe's Stoxx50 and Japan's Nikkei indices gained +1.2% and +1.7% respectively. The UK's FTSE100 Index had a strong month gaining +2.8%, boosted by the Conservatives landslide victory in December. We hope this will lead to a sensible resolution to the UK's Brexit situation.

The Australian share market ended 2019 on a soft note, with the ASX300 Accumulation Index falling 2.0% in December, after a strong performance through 2019. Similar to other markets, the share market rally over 2019 made up for losses in 2018 when markets were heavily sold down due to concerns of interest rate hikes against a backdrop of softening economic growth. During this window of 'weakness' the US Federal Reserve subsequently abandoned its rate hike agenda and delivered three 0.25% rate cuts over 2019. Similarly, the RBA also moved to cut interest rates three times in Australia. The market in December was weighed down by weakness primarily in the Financials and Consumer Staples sectors. The IT sector also came under pressure shedding -4%, with Wisetech falling -14% following yet another research firm questioning the company's accounting practices. The Small Ordinaries Accumulation Index fell by a small 0.3%, unencumbered by the declines of larger financial stocks.

This graph shows how $100,000 invested at the Fund's Inception has increased to $212,900 (net of fees excluding performance fees). This compares very favourably with the return of the benchmark, where a $100,000 investment would have increased to $173,500 over the same period. The returns exclude the benefits of imputation credits.

Fund review and strategy

The Fund posted a decline of 2.0% in December. For the 2019 calendar year, the Fund was up 16.2%. The Fund enjoyed a strong start to the year, although performance lagged that of the broader market due to an underweight position in the large cap banking sector that rallied strongly as the RBA cut interest rates and on an unexpected Federal election outcome.

Fund performance during the second of 2019 was more subdued in an absolute sense. Whilst the Fund performed broadly in line with the market during the second half of 2019, some performance was offset by a market rotation, away from secular growth towards value and cyclical stocks. We expect global growth to remain subdued 2020 and believe quality growth companies will deliver longer-term outperformance. The Fund maintains a large position in small and mid-cap growth companies.

The top contributors to Fund performance during the month were Service Stream (+7.7%), BHP (+1.8%) and Bravura (+4.8%). Detractors to fund performance included Goodman Group (-9.8%), Collins Food (-13.5%) and CSL (-2.7%).

Service Stream's subsidiary, Comdain Infrastructure, through a JV consortium, was awarded its largest contract to date—a 10-year asset services contract by Sydney Water initially estimated to contribute $60m revenue per annum for Service Stream. This award demonstrates the underlying growth levers of Service Stream which offset lower NBN activations over the next few years. We believe Service Stream is well positioned to diversify away from its historical focus on NBN related contracts to more sustainable, long dated work and other growth infrastructure services: Australia houses ageing national infrastructure assets that requires regular maintenance. The NBN has grown substantially, with the focus shifting to maintaining the network as opposed to expanding the network. Finally, the commercial telecom networks will be spending billions in the next few years as 5G expenditure ramp up.

Collins Food reported a solid first half 2020 results in late November—the company reported good growth in KFC Australia, which offset weaker earnings in KFC Europe and start-up losses in Taco Bell. We note that while KFC Europe earnings declined for a second consecutive half, Germany's sales performance provides optimism for improvement in the Netherlands. Finally, the Taco Bell store rollout opportunity, which is at a very early stage, remains very compelling.
